

Walk In Beauty

By

Bearheart Kokopelli

Written by

Steve Sheppard

I must say I simply adore the energy of a Bearheart Kokopelli composition, the production quality is excellent, the structure and arrangements are sublime, and to be blunt, they are absolutely delightful to listen to.

This new single of the artist brings us all that and more and called Walk in Beauty, something I try to do each day. This vibrant and exciting new single has much to offer, a delightful tempo and a multi-instrumental nature that incorporates Didgeridoo, flute, percussion and more.

The composition grows with each minute played and leaves the listener in a garden of musical heaven; I can see this one being very popular with the fans and followers of really good music, and expect to see a decent chart position for this charming new offering.